Farewell to Fawcett Family

Knox church was crowded last Friday evening, with members and friends gathered to bid farewell to the Minister and his family. After a pastorate of four years, in which the church experienced unprecedented growth, Dr. Fawcett has accepted a call to Nanton, Alberta. With Dr. Clarke as chairman, a musical program was rendered by the girl's choir, the festival contestants and the Robertson brothers. Judging from the applause, these artists have an appreciative audience in their own home town, and their numbers were very much enjoyed. The girl's choir rendered several of Dr. Fawcett's favorites, and a grand climax was reached with "Rock" - Robert's comic selections.

During the social hour which followed, speeches and presentations, were made by several present. Dr. Clarke, on behalf of the board of Managers and the congregation, presented a gift of £100. Dr. Fawcett upon his becoming Doctor of Divinity, an honor conferred upon him by his Alma Mater during the present year, a Parker pen and pencil set accompanying the address. Dr. and Mrs. Fawcett were given a tri-light lamp, the gift of the entire charge, Mr. T. Morris making the presentation. Special mention was made of the work, in church and community, of Mrs. Fawcett, who has endeared herself to everyone with whom she has come in contact. Her quiet efficiency and charm has contributed in generous measure, to the success of the pastorate. The girl's choir, which Dr. Fawcett has been leading, gave him a pair of handkerchiefs and a souvenir album; Douglas Wardle, organist, making the presentation. Rita Mae Fawcett also received a gift from the choir, presented by Doreen Gillie.

Dr. Fawcett, in his reply, made reference to his thirty years in the ministry, and more particularly to his pastorate at Didsbury, during which time many honors have been bestowed upon him, including Presidency of Conference and Presidents of Temperance Organization and Bible Society as well as D.D. He thanked one and all for the many kindnesses which they had received, including the parting gifts, and he bespoke the same loyal cooperation for his successor, Rev. D. White Smith.

After a hearty vote of thanks to Miss Collins, director of the festival artists, and pianist of the evening, the Ladies Aids served dainty refreshments.

The good wishes of the entire community go with Dr. and Mrs. Fawcett, to their new home.

Congratulation From Minister for Air.

Mr. Albert Spragg received recently the following letter of congratulation from the Hon. C. G. Powers, minister for air:

Dear Mr. Spragg,

I am writing to say how much all ranks of the Royal Canadian Air Force join with me in warmly congratulating you and the members of your family on the honour and distinction which has come to your son Pilot Officer Lewis Albert Spragg, D.F.M. through the award of the Distinguished Flying Medal, prior to his having been appointed to a commission, for great gallantry in the performance of his duty while serving with No. 78 Squadron of the Royal Air Force.

The citation on which the award was made reads as follows:

The personnel of the Force are proud of your son's fine service record.

Yours sincerely,
CHARLES G. POWERS,

Now that Father's Day has come and gone, and Dad has another pair of socks and one more tie, he should be able to last till Christmas. But perhaps he received a new razor, too. Which reminds us of the man who used to drop his used blades on the nice blue carpet. The maid, who picked them up, always cut her fingers, and dripped blood on the rug. All Pa said, was "We'll either have to get a new red carpet, or a blue-blooded maid."

An urgent call has been sent out by the Polish Relief Fund for clothes. Any used clothes that are wearable, and of course clean, will be very, very gratefully received. If you have anything at all that can be worn by a poor, needy man, woman, or child, please hand it over to any I.O.D.E. member, who will be more than pleased to see it gets to the right quarter.

Our pet rabbit broke loose from his pen one day last week. He ate half a row of the neighbour's peas, two rows of lettuce, some cabbage plants ruined two of his wife's daisies, and deflated the ego of three dogs. All around our place is now regarded as enemy territory, as far as we are concerned. But we are putting out peace feelers, daily.

Scoutmaster Don Mortimer invested six more scouts on Monday evening, in the Legion Hall. They were: Rodney DeMann, Ernie Sutton, Barney Huisperger, Glen Klein, Arthur Jans and Joe Barritt.

Thanks, Bergen, for the bouquet you sent our way. We are never too tired to pick one up. As for boys being rationed, we saw it coming, and stocked up ahead of time.

Hiya Vivian. Welcome home on leave.

Rehabilitation Of Europe

THE MANNER IN WHICH GERMANY has plundered the occupied countries of Europe is well known. Early in the war Goering frankly stated that "whoever starves it will not be the German people" and it is clear that every effort has been made to fulfill this promise. The conquered countries have been stripped of food and all supplies which are of use to the German people, and in addition large indemnities from these countries have swelled Germany's financial resources. The necessity of the Allied blockade of Europe is clearly recognized, regrettable as it is that the innocent countries must suffer for lack of essential supplies. Great Britain and the United States have promised that with their invading forces, there will come without delay, supplies for the people who are liberated from the domination of the Nazis.

It also dealt with methods for re-establishing local industry. The recommendations of this board were sent to London and decisions were made in reference to the shipment of materials to North Africa. Only eighteen days after the first Allied landings, the British Food Ministry sent a shipment of food to North Africa. This first shipment included three hundred tons of sugar, two hundred tons of canned milk, two hundred tons of soap and ten tons of coffee. Since that time, many other shipments have been sent to supply the territory released from German, Italian and Vichy French domination.

A Sound Basis For The Future

Supplies sent to North Africa, and those which will be sent to the countries of Europe as soon as the Allies landed there, a North African Economic Board was set up. This board was composed of British and American economic advisors and representatives of supply departments, and it undertook to determine the needs of the country and to meet these needs to the best advantage, from the resources of the United Nations. FACING BIG DEMAND
The poultry industry of Canada during the next 12 months will be faced with the greatest demand for eggs and poultry it has ever known. At least 100,000,000 dozen eggs will be required for export alone to several countries. In addition, the requirements of the armed forces have doubled since the first year of war and the civilian domestic situation is demanding more and still more eggs.

Power Which Drove Electric Clock Came From Rose Bed

When she lived at Gledhow Grange, Mrs. F. J. Kitson was fond of showing her many guests what she called the first electric clock in London. The clock was on a chime piece, but it was driven by a couple of metal plates each about a square yard in area, one of copper, the other of zinc, sunk in a rose bed in the garden.

Mrs. Kitson would describe how this electric clock had been put in years before she went to live there, and kept good time. But if ever it faltered, the unfailing remedy was to have the rose bed watered, or dosed with liquid manure.

The arrangement was that of a Voltaic pile, and such piles often have a very long life. Somewhere in the Dictionary of National Biography is a reference to a Voltaic pile at the Physical Laboratory in Oxford which for many years had been ringing an electric bell unfailingly, day and night—Leeds Yorkshire Post.

Queen Mary, who quietly observed her 78th birthday recently at the 600-acre estate near a West England village that has been her home since the war began, is devoted to walking, neighborliness and her children. She visits factories and service camps, and shows movies in her home for soldiers and airmen. Forestry is one of her major interests, and occasionally she trims bushes with her own special saw, helping the lumberjacks who have been thinning out the trees on the estate and stacking wood to be carried to the village.

She uses gasoline only for war work and never makes a trip without collecting salvage—bones, bottles, paper and scrap metal.

"Her Majesty brings back some of the most amazing collections of odds and ends from her drives," an attendant said recently.

Friends say she misses London sadly, especially its museums, shops, theatres and hospitals which she befriends, and longs to return.

Early in the war she went to the capital at least once weekly and sometimes twice. But with restricted travel she never goes now.

"My journey is really not necessary," she says.

A timid soul, turned a school for paratroops, turned to one of the trainers and weekly—How can you hang from that thin silk thing? Isn't the suspense terrible?"

"Now," was the reply, "it's when the suspense isn't there that it's terrible."

High Grade Limestone Can Replace Oyster Shell For Chicks

Because oyster shell which is imported from the United States is becoming scarce, Canadian poultrymen will have to depend to a greater extent on limestone in feeding poultry. High calcium limestone, which is relatively cheap and of which there are many deposits in Canada, makes a satisfactory substitute for oyster shell and, if properly graded, may be fed in the same manner.

All limestone deposits are not considered suitable for poultry feeding, the Feeds Administrator points out. Some are low in calcium and high in magnesium. Only a trace of magnesium is required by poultry. Too much may be harmful to chicks.

Where limestone is used, the pellets should be started on it, because a change later from oyster shell to limestone may result temporarily in reduced consumption and adversely affect egg production.

VITAMIN B2

The greater the intake of riboflavin in one's daily rations, the better one's general health and the longer one is likely to live, a leading United States nutrition authority states. Those interested in good nutrition, you'll have come across the word "riboflavin" before this. It is the name given to a part of the Vitamin B complex, and it is present in milk, eggs, meat (especially liver) and green leaf vegetables. If you are familiar with livestock feeding, you will know that riboflavin is as important in animal food as in human diet.

What riboflavin is that? The more you take, the more good it does. Most vitamins are needed in certain quantities and the body cannot make use of a great excess.

A large intake of riboflavin brings about that "feeling of well-being and buoyant health" which is more than "average good health" and a great deal better than just being sick.

A low level of riboflavin brings about earlier signs of old age, a shorter prime of life, a lower level of general health, and, if prolonged, will cause a disease known as arteriosclerosis, which is characterized by weak and sore cracks at mouth corners, digestive disturbances, and poor skin condition. These conditions are common, especially among office workers who drink too little milk. For without milk it is difficult to get the optimum amount of riboflavin. The average daily requirement for an adult is 2.2 milligrams, (mgm).

Rich Sources Of Riboflavin

1 cup whole milk 0.53
1 cup skim milk 0.44
1 cup evap. milk dil. 0.42
1 serving liver 2.07
1/2 cup cubed kidney 1.95

Small Groups Of Men Watch From Lonely Outposts For Sign Of Japanese Invaders

(By Corporal L. G. Baker, R.C.A.F.)

COMpletely isolated on storm-swept islands reaching out from Canada's west coast are small groups of men of the Royal Canadian Air Force ever on the alert to report signs of the Japanese menace in the North Pacific. Placed at these lonely outposts, the airmen "spotters" armed with powerful binoculars, constantly search the seas and skies for any sign of what would be invader or raider.

Should an enemy force come with in view, fighting airmen teams from coastal Air Force bases would be winging their way seaward to extend an explosive "welcome" to the "visitor" thanks to the groundmen of the coast watch.

A difficult job because it is so extremely isolated, the coast watch is considered to be one of the most important links in Canada's chain of defences on the Pacific coast. Knowing this, the men on the job take the hardships and loneliness of the woods in their stride.

They live in log cabins hewn by their own hands out of the forests of the islands they inhabit. Sometimes they do not return to civilization from their hide-away lookouts for five and six months.

It is the visits of the supply boat from this base which the men eagerly await for on it comes food supplies, reliefs and by no means the least important to them, mail from home! The supply vessel is a sturdy little halibut fishing boat operated by the Air Force manned by an experienced crew. Regularly it heads for the open waters of the Pacific leading to the gunwales, taking rations to the outposts. Food supplies are to be watched carefully for it is not uncommon for the station boat to reach them and have to turn away without putting a boat to shore because of angry seas.

"It's no job when that happens," said Sergt. George B. Spence, a former Calgary, Alta., man who looks after the needs of the coast watch men. "We've had no serious shortages at any of the units, yet," he said, "but it's a full time job getting supplies out to the units regularly in the weather we get."

Although some of the camps have fairly sheltered spots where the supply boat can drop anchor, others are completely in the open. It is here that difficulties arise in trying to land supplies by dinghy.

"You get soaked to the skin every time," chuckled Corporal Eric White, Vancouver, B.C. Corporal White, three weeks stubble on his chin, grinned as he mopped his hot-salt spray face. He had just rowed out from shore to the supply boat to bring the mail aboard. His dripping clothes told the story. But the soaking did not phase this lookout man. "Catch cold? Not us! You get hardened to that sort of thing!"

He was right. Sickness is unheard of throughout the coast watch. First aid kits are on hand in case of an emergency and the men are trained beforehand to look after one another in case of an accident. Hunting is a favorite pastime. Deer are plentiful at most of the lookouts and many a tasty venison dinner is enjoyed. The boys hunt bear and sea lion for sport and never turn down a chance of a duck dinner when a "Quacker" comes their way.

"We're able to pick off a deer practically any time we want fresh meat and we have only to go about a half mile from camp," said Corporal D. L. (Dave) Donaldson, Vancouver, B.C., and formerly of Shell Lake, Sask. Most successful bear hunter of the coast watch was Corporal L. A. (Larry) Betts, Cranbrook, B.C., a former logger. Larry had bagged two brown bears and dragged out the skins as proof. The animals weighed about 300 and 100 pounds.

No one had got himself a sea lion which inhabit the rocky shore line. "They say 'Old Bill' sometimes weighs as much as 1,000 pounds in these parts but we've never been able to get one," said Leading Aircraftman Bert Kemble, Pincher Creek, Alta.

Favorite indoor hobby among the men is smoking. Although each camp has a qualified cook, the others like to try their hand at the stove at meal-time. "They do alright, too," said Leading Aircraftman Tom Fox.

Edmonton, Alta., cook at one of the camps, Fox had just returned from leave and said he was glad to be back to the woods. "You don't hear me complaining about this kind of life," he remarked, adding with a grin, "that is, as long as these greenhorns don't start baking cakes using milk powder for baking powder!" "Okay, so I made one mistake," retorted Leading Aircraftman Lyle (Sandy) Sandford, Leslie, Sask.

Air Force uniforms are packed away until the day when the boys go on leave. In place of the brass-buttoned blue suits, they wear heavy colored shirts, lumbermen's pants and caulk boots. Rubber boots and coats are a necessity too. The rain does not fall in drops in this part of the country, but literally streams out of the sky for days at a stretch.

The packer and butcher take scrupulous care of meat while it is in their charge. It is just as important that proper care be given to meat in the home in order that any waste through spoilage may be avoided.

Here are some tips on meat care from the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The wrapping paper should be removed from meat as soon as it comes from the butcher. If this is not done, the paper acts as a blotter, drawing out some of the juices of the meat. The surface of the meat is kept moist and spoilage occurs more quickly.

Meat should be kept as cold as possible. Uncooked meat should be covered lightly, preferably with waxed paper. Cooked meat should be allowed to cool uncovered, then closely covered to prevent drying out and kept cold. Grilled meat, either raw or cooked, spoils more quickly than ground meat and should be used up promptly.

Left over steaks or soups which have been cooked with potatoes or thickened with flour will spoil quickly and should be used up promptly.

Meat should be wiped with a damp cloth. Washing is necessary only with the organ meats where clotted blood has to be removed, and sometimes with smoked hams.

(Wynford Vaughan Thomas, in the BBC Bulletin, tells of a visit to the guns in action on board one of our greatest battleships, the King George the Fifth—everybody in the navy calls her the K.G.5. It was dawn when we slipped out of the anchorage for the firing range. We picked up our destroyer screen as we cleared the headlands, and all the way out we were at work on board getting ready for action.)

THEN AND NOW

In 1918 a plane flying at a height of 8,000 feet was beyond the reach of gun batteries, average height at which enemy planes have been shot down recently is 16,000 feet.

Surrounding in front of a twin-engine training aircraft, separate musical organization but its members still do their regular air force part-time work.

The band traces its origin to a Burns Night dinner at which Air Force officers of Scottish descent voiced their desire to have a band to play at the annual Burns Suppers. Although there was no representation in the R.C.A.F. at that time, there were many Highland regiments in the Army. Present was Group Captain E. G. Fullerton, who conceived the idea of adapting these pipers. Corporal Jimmy Ross, Leading Aircraftman P. G. Innes and Leading Aircraftman W. J. Match, to the station band. Later, when No. 9 S.E.T.S. was transferred from Summerside, P.E.I., to Centres, the pipe section was considerably augmented by the addition of several pipers and drummers from the Cameron Cadets of Winnipeg. Now, 14 strong, it is a

When a battleship fires her big guns all sorts of precautions have to be taken—curious precautions some of them are, too. Every scuttle has to be tightly shut, every door above the main deck has to be taken off its hinges, the cabin mirrors have to be wrapped in the bedclothes, in the ward-room the pictures are all taken down, and aboard the K.G.5 the ward-room stewards even removed the ship's pets, four kittens. Down they had to go, to a specially padded box, to the safety of the sick bay.

The blast from these huge 14" guns is a very serious factor you've got to reckon with on board. After all, wherever you go on the ship you're not very far away from them. So before they are fired everyone—if he hasn't a job to do—is ordered below deck. If you've got a job to do—signal markings, air defence, or on the bridge—then you've got to wear ear-plugs or cotton wool. If you don't, you run the danger of splitting your eardrums, especially if the guns are firing on a narrow bearing.

I watched the exercise from the air defence position high up on the bridge superstructure. The whole ship was below me. I could look forward to where the bows were cutting through the tumbling sea—watch the spray come hissing in over the turrets and then watch the forward turrets slowly swing until all the six great guns were pointing to port. They weigh over 1,000 tons apiece those turrets, more than the weight of a destroyer, yet they were turned under the control of one man, the Gunnery Officer. He and his team of spotters were sitting at their complicated instruments (some of them new and highly secret, too) in the small steel globe of the Director Control Tower, just above me, the nerve centre of the ship in action.

From the D.C.T., one man, by pressing a small trigger, can fire the whole of the ship's broadside. Everyone of those great guns shooting together, every shell they shoot weighing over three-quarters of a ton. A staggering power concentrated in the hands of one man.

Now, looking forward, I could see those guns lifting, higher, higher. They steady themselves. And then suddenly—Fire! A great searing rush of yellow flame seemed to leap out from the ship's side. I felt as if I'd received a violent punch in the chest—the air was filled with the acrid smell of burning cordite, fumes that went drifting out into the frigidity.

And for the sound! Well, if you take the mixed drums of the Boston Symphony Orchestra and mix them with the sound of a hundred-foot wall collapsing in the blitz, you might get somewhere near it. It goes rolling away over the grey waters.

Then in the silence that seems doubly silent you watch for the fall of the shot. Those shells may be travelling ten, fifteen miles. And then they take what seems an endless time to fall. Then, away on the very horizon, tiny fountains of water leap up. The salvo has fallen, and when you hear some of the gunnery officers on board the K.G.5 discussing the "chase of the Husarik, you thank your stars that you're not at the receiving end of that salvo.

Yes, there's no doubt about it; the Royal Navy's got the guns.

RIDICULOUS RUMOR

Red Star, official Russian Army newspaper, ridiculed rumors from Swedish and other foreign sources that Russia was seeking peace with Germany. "Only complete ruin of Hitler's army and total capitulation of Hitlerite Germany can bring peace to the suffering nations of Europe," the newspaper asserted.

Animals are generally immune to poison ivy, and some species even eat it freely.

Registered & Certified Crops

Many farmers are growing either Registered or Certified crops for seed or wish to have their crops inspected in the field in order to know authoritatively whether their crops are true-to-variety.Those who desire to have their fields of grain or forage crops inspected must make an application for such inspection to the Production Service, Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture, at either Calgary, Saskatoon or Winnipeg. The application must be made on a proper form supplied for the purpose by the Plant Products Division, and the form must be filled in and returned to the Plant Products Division before July 1st.Those who are having fields inspected would do well to run a mower around their Registered or Certified crop so as to have a clear alleyway or lane some four feet wide around the growing Registered or Certified field.Fields will not necessarily pass inspection simply because they have been sown with Registered or Certified seed. Work must done on them, the seed grower or farmer should look for the first at heading time and pull out by the roots, plants of weeds or of other grains or off-types which obviously do not belong in the crop.ITEMS OF INTEREST IN THE WORLD OF FOODSTUFFSThe U.S. Department of Agriculture recently estimated winter wheat production at 501,702,000 bushels, as compared with the 1942 crop of 703,253,000 bushels. The Uruguayan corn crop, as a result of drought, is forecast at 1,497,000 bushels, the smallest harvest on record—it is uncofficially estimated that Australia's 1943-44 wheat acreage will be less than that of 1942-43.Broomhall reports the Argentine trade is expecting an increase in wheat acreage, providing seeding operations in the south are satis-

the United Kingdom is now sufficient to fill the household sugar supply. Improved weather condi-

where drought was causing crop

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE
CANADAFELLOW CANADIANI would like to remind the two million taxpayers of Canada of their obligation to file a 1942 Income Tax Return before the 30th of June.This year, the forms have been simpli-of time and effort.The Income Tax dollars that Canadians pay are necessary in our present struggle. They are an investment in our future peace and security. They are fighting dollars...victory person is taxed in accordance with his ability to pay.There is no easy way to win a war.

Almost half the costs of this war must be paid by taxes. I know that the Income Tax is not a pleasant burden, but I also know that to win the

1943 Calgary Exhibition And Stampede will be Canada's Greatest Show

Plans are rapidly nearing completion for the 58th celebration of the annual Calgary Exhibition and Stampede, July 5 to 10. All features of this year's event will again be presented along with many added new attractions.

The show this year has been dedicated to "Quality Food Production for Victory and Freedom" and it will mirror the Canadian War Effort particularly in the field of Livestock and Agriculture production. The Livestock exhibit is expected to be one of the finest in many years with a very large entry anticipated. The Swine show, in keeping with the times, will probably be the largest ever held in Canada. On display in the spacious Cattle Pavilion will be an outstanding exhibit of "key-stones" of breed improvement.

The biggest Stampede in the world, with 500 cowboys competing in the hair-raising events, will again feature the afternoon performances. Horse races, with seven races daily, will intersperse the programs on the last four days, Wednesday to Saturday. Monday and Tuesday afternoons will be filled with the most thrilling collection of Western Sports ever presented. Along with the Stampede, there are numerous track events which will consist of Roman Standing Races, Pony Express Races, Cart-Turning Races and Cart Races. Calgary has long been famous for its exciting Chuck Wagon races, held each evening in front of the grandstand. These afternoon attractions are expected to challenge the thrills of the chuck wagons.

The glorious week will begin with the Stampede Parade on Monday morning at 10:00 a.m., for which the Armed Services are again co-operating to display Canada's mighty forces of war. Indians, cowboys and old timers will join the Services to present one of the finest spectacles ever presented. The Indians will again come to the Exhibition for their annual holiday and will camp in their pictureque surroundings at the grounds. On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings, Street Displays will be presented in downtown Calgary. The Old Timers will again entertain all their old friends in the pleasant atmosphere of their old log cabin.

The evening attraction on the grandstand platform is entitled "Allies Victorious", and will combine clever comedy and mischievous music in the most attractive production ever staged on the A-Stage. Each evening the grandstand performance will be opened with the thrilling chuck wagon races. Already over 20 entries have been received for this event, the greatest entry for many years, and thrills and spills will be the result for at least five heats each night. Saturday evening the Indians will put on the platform in their colorful costumes and a Stampede Championships will be presented to the top cowboys of the week.

ARMED FORCES OF CANADA

For the first time since the Royal Canadian Academy was established, in 1882, space in the Annual Art Exhibition will be given to Handicrafts. These will be presented at Montreal from all over the Dominion by the Canadian Handicrafts Council for the Canadian Government. The exhibition will be held by an Academy Jury for the Academy's own Show which will be held in October at Queen's Hall. In addition to the usual crafts, special prizes are being offered by the Guild for Victorian embroidery, suitable for display in churches and elsewhere. Iron and Steel

The Canadian public knows, and admires, the successful struggle against feed shortages in which prairie farmers have been, and still are, engaged.

But people, however, know that but for the patriotism of farmers in the prairie provinces, the struggle might have been unable to carry on last winter. About the 1st of July, 1942, a system for collecting scrap iron and steel by country elevator agents was organized. All elevator systems have been engaged in the work of collecting scrap iron and the response of farmers and the enterprise of elevator agents, 3,200 cars of scrap have been shipped with a total of about 130,000 tons of metal. 30,000 tons remain in dumps at various locations, but because of the success of the campaign, scrap iron has been never so easily collected as to assemble at least 25 tons at a point before loading. Now, however, two stop-overs are allowed in order to make up a carload and, as a result, the local piles of less than carload lots will soon disappear.

This is no time to relax, because the need for scrap iron and steel is urgent. It is estimated that 65,000 tons are still available on farms. The importance of getting this scrap集中 and shipped is great. Farmers will be paid $7.00 per ton for scrap delivered to local elevator purchasing agents. Heavy stuff, such as steam engines, heavy tractors, etc., is worth $4.50 per ton on the farm, with the metal removed and removed by the cutter crew. Any farmer having heavy scrap which requires the cutter crew should immediately notify the elevator purchasing agent.

The government has publicly advised that the co-operation of farmers and elevator agents—but requires more scrap urgently. To delay it is to postpone final victory.

The top cowboys of the week. Fireworks will be presented on Monday and Saturday evenings, and will, undoubtedly, be the greatest display ever presented in Canada this year.

The All Canadian Midway, "Frolunda Land", with many new rides and attractions, will be in Calgary again for the week of July 5 to 10, and will do its part in providing entertainment and relaxation for the public generally and the members of the Armed Services stationed in the West.

The Royal Canadian Academy of Arts, which has its headquarters in Olds, was incorporated in 1936 and has been holding annual exhibitions in each of the Provinces of Canada. It was delegated last year by the Interprovincial Committee of the Federal Government of Canada to assemble an Exhibit of Canadian Handicrafts for the Women's International Exposition of Arts and Industries, to be held in the Spring Garden, New York. A number of the handicraft workers in Canada have won international recognition, such as Geneva Lunt, of Olds, her embroidery; Doris LeGoyen of Olds, her embroidery; for glazed pottery exhibited at the Royal Academy in London, and Kjeld Hansen, of Delta, his pottery. The Royal Canadian Academy of Arts has had an excellent exhibition of the work of its members recently in the Toronto Art Gallery, Toronto, and in Montreal.

The Royal Canadian Academy of Arts has a strong supporter of the resurgence in handicraft, and has organized weaving in rural districts so extensively that there are now 60,000 looms and 100,000 spinning wheels in use in that Province.

Must Look Careworn

So Nazi Artist Must Retouch Recent Portrait Of Hitler

A new portrait of Hitler, painted by the Nazi artist Kurt Schmitt, which was to have been shown in a Berlin gallery in May, has been withdrawn to Berlin. It depicted Hitler flatly, seemingly as a healthy, fresh-faced, well-fed Fuehrer, confident and apparently without a care.

It was realized that this aspect did not conform to Goebbels' recent propaganda describing Hitler's care-worn face reflecting the sufferings of his people. So Kurt Schmitt has now to paint in the lines of worry and anxiety before his picture can be exhibited.—London Daily Sketch.

Figures Of Speech

Churchill Can Switch Nimble From Dog Fights To Mythology

Prime Minister Winston Churchill, in predicting what the Allies will do to the Axis, switches nimble from dog fights to mythology for his figures of speech.

In recent private conversation at Whitehall on Allied operations against Europe, he said: "When a big dog gets hold of a little dog, he shakes him, and shakes him, and shakes him." The Prime Minister grabbed an imaginary opponent in front of him and shook him, chewing fiercely on his cigar the while.

Speaking of what was to be done about Italy, he sandwiched in a neat metaphor: "Of this you may be sure—we shall continue to operate on the donkey at the ends—with a stick and a switch."

The Allied forces in the Far East, he said at another point, are "like a shirt of Nessus on the body of the Japanese Emperor." Here he referred to the mythological shirt, saturated in the blood of the centaur Nessus, which someone inveigled Hercules to put on. The shirt caused Hercules extreme agony, and he tore it off, ripping away pieces of his own flesh with it.

"It doesn't kill him—yet—but it goes on, day and night, burning him, stinging him, infuriating him, and he cannot get it off."

Many Losses

Book-Stealing In Large Cities In Britain Is On The Increase

Dealers and the police are trying to end a wave of book-stealing in London and other large cities in Great Britain.

The losses are greater in large shops where people can handle books at will. Because of the reduction in the number of employees, it is no longer possible to supervise the shops properly. Books are not so plentiful and are more expensive than in pre-war days.

The thieves display remarkable cunning, booksellers say. "Only the keenest observers can catch them," one dealer said. "They stroll along the shop, taking books out of the shelves, two or three at a time. But when they take out three books, they return only two, and when two have been brought over just one will be put back. The other is slipped under a coat, hidden in a newspaper or, if the person is a woman, draped into a handbag."

It is estimated that in the production of parts for one torpedo, workers perform about 20,000 separate operations.

Saskatchewan To X-Ray All Indians On Reserves

Regina, Sask.—X-ray of Indians in every reserve in Saskatchewan has been started by the Department of Indian Affairs in an effort to find and treat all tuberculous cases among them.

M. Christianon, superintendent of Indian affairs at Regina, said: "It is the intention of the department that every Indian man, woman and child X-rayed."

As tuberculosis among the white population of Saskatchewan is being eradicated, there have been complaints that the Indian reservations have remained 'pools of infection,' endangering the white population living near the reserves. The Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League has already demonstrated that tuberculosis among the Indians can be wiped out as well as among white people, which it had to prove a number of years ago.

UNTIL 1883, NO TWO CITIES KEPT TIME EXACTLY THE SAME—UNLESS THEY WERE ON THE SAME MERIDIAN! NEW YORK CLOCKS WERE ELEVEN MINUTES AND THIRTY ONE SECONDS BEHIND THOSE IN BOSTON, AND TWELVE TWELVE MINUTES AHEAD OF WASHINGTON CLOCKS.

WHEN WE HAVE SUMMER, WHY DOES THE SOUTHERN HEMISPHERE HAVE WINTER?

ANSWER: Because the earth does not spin around its orbit in an upright position, but leans at an angle, the southern hemisphere has short days when the northern hemisphere has long days, and vice versa.

Joe Hunter took a load of pigs to Calgary Tuesday.

We were sorry to hear there is not to be a School Fair at the Mountain View Hall this fall. Do not know whether the decision to discontinue was due to lack of public interest or war conditions. As it was one of the few remaining occasions on which country people got together from the different districts, the school fair will be missed.

Floyd Algirius visited Calgary on Friday. Vivian planned on getting her glasses changed.
